U. S. Missiles May Be Offered French Forces

Ike, Congress Leaders Meet

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported to have discussed with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders today the possible assignment of U. S. guided missiles to France.

That word came from Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), one of a sizable group invited to the White House from the Capitol to hear Eisenhower report on his Bermuda conference with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain.

One of the major announced results of the conference was an Anglo-American "agreement in principle" that "certain guided missiles will be made available by the United States for use by British forces."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) and others at the White House meeting said they were reassured that any atomic warheads for missiles sent to Britain would "remain in our custody."

No Secret Agreements

Hennings said the question of giving France the same opportunity of getting missiles came up today. Several said they got the impression Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles felt it might be embarrassing to treat France any differently from Britain.

It remained to be seen, however, when the United States might be able to deploy Intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles to Britain, France or anywhere else.

Following the Bermuda announcement, a Pentagon spokesman said "We have a lot to do before we are ready to give our missiles to our friends." Missile experts estimated it would be a year or more before they can be put into operation even by forces in the United States.

Bridges and others said Eisenhower and Dulles emphasized there were no secret agreements reached at Bermuda.

"Satisfaction" For Ike

Bridges quoted Eisenhower as saying he got "greater satisfaction" out of the talks with Macmillan than he derived from any other international conference he has attended.

Asked whether the President indicated that differences with British have been patched up—there was deep unhappiness on both sides during and after the British-French and Israeli attack on Egypt—Bridges replied:

"He did. He indicated he didn't discuss past issues in any detail (at Bermuda)."

Hennings also supplied a report on Eisenhower's apparent health. He said the President looked fit, did not appear to be hoarse, and did not cough during the hour and 20 minutes he spent with the senators and representatives.

Daily Price Raised By New York Post

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The New York Post today fell in line with Manhattan's other two afternoon newspapers and raised its daily price to 10 cents effective tomorrow.

The Journal-American, and the World Telegram and Sun previously raised their prices from five to 10 cents per copy.

The morning Daily News and the Daily Mirror went from four to five cents. The other morning papers, the Times and the Herald-Tribune said they had no plans to increase their present price of five cents.

Flour For Refugees

GAZA, March 25 (AP)—A U. N. Emergency Force spokesman said today Egypt has agreed to movement of a U. N. truck convoy from Haifa, Israel, into the Gaza Strip. The shipment is mostly flour ordered for the more than 200,000 Palestine War refugees in the Strip while Israel occupied it.

Appeal By Va. Of Integration Order Denied

Policy Of "Massive Resistance" Jolted By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Supreme Court today dealt a blow to Virginia's policy of "massive resistance" to racial integration in its public schools.

With a minimum of words, the court rejected 8-0 Virginia's appeals from orders of lower federal courts enjoining enforcement of racial segregation in Charlottesville and Arlington County.

Treating the appeals as routinely as possible, the court grouped them with 23 others in its list of orders and merely said as to all of them: "The petitions for writs of certiorari in these cases are severally denied."

Charlottesville, in the central part of the state, is the seat of the University of Virginia. Arlington County, just across the Potomac River from Washington, is populated heavily by government workers and service personnel.

Court Reemphasizes Policy

The court emphasized again its policy of giving lower courts wide discretion in bringing about desegregation "with all deliberate speed," as ordered in May 1955.

It did so by refusing to review orders of lower courts denying immediate admission of Negro children in Old Fort, N. C., to a white school.

Atty. Gen. J. Lindsay Almond, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Virginia, carried the Charlottesville and Arlington appeals to the Supreme Court.

In both cases the U. S. Court of Appeals for the 4th Circuit (Maryland, Virginia, the Carolinas and West Virginia) affirmed orders of district judges directing the ending of segregation.

New Petition May Be Filed

Judge Albert V. Bryan ordered Arlington elementary schools desegregated as of last Jan. 31 and high schools by next September. Judge John Paul ordered Charlottesville schools desegregated as of last September. Both these orders have been held in abeyance pending the exhaustion of appeals procedures.

Virginia now has 25 days in which to petition the Supreme Court to reconsider its today's refusal to review the two cases. Ultimately they will have to go back to the district judges for them to set new deadlines.

Pa. State Capitol Has Bomb Scare

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 25 (AP)—An anonymous telephone call today touched off an intensive bomb hunt in the State Capitol by more than 100 police.

They didn't find anything but the shaking down of the building provided some excitement and some uneasy moments for at least some of the thousands of officials and their staffs.

The tip came to the city hall switchboard in a man's voice saying, "There won't be any more taxes now" because a bomb had been placed in the Capitol.

Within minutes 75 State Police and 40 Capitol Police spread out through the sprawling 450-room building.

There was no panic and most officials and office employees were inclined to treat the call as a hoax.

The House and Senate were closed to the public for awhile. Gov. George M. Leader remained at his desk.

British Strike Probe Ordered By Government

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Attempts to settle Britain's nationwide shipyard strike broke down tonight and the government stepped in.

It set up a court of inquiry to deal with the unions and their employers.

Iain Macleod, minister of labor, appealed to the unions to call off their 10-day old strike while the inquiry goes on.

The deadlock between the bosses and unions shattered hopes for speedy end to the spreading industrial upheaval undermining Britain's economy.

Unions Reject Offer

The unions rejected a 5 per cent wage increase offer and refused to call off a walkout by 200,000 men. They had demanded a 10 per cent cost-of-living hike and stopped working March 16.

Failure of the talks also ruled out a quick end to a new walkout by a million engineering workers in key factories producing planes, automobiles, electrical equipment and machine tools. This stoppage began Saturday and hit Britain with full force for the first time today.

Both strikes are masterminded by the Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

Snowball Campaign

Hope had been expressed that if peace was restored to the shipyards a settlement of the engineers' dispute would follow quickly. Their stoppage is the first stage of a snowball campaign which the confederation says will bring three-million workers to a standstill in 4,300 factories by April 6. The demand here also is for a 10 per cent pay boost.

The shipbuilding strike has halted work on 300 ships under construction. The engineers' walkout, if it reaches its threatened dimensions, will paralyze plants turning out 40 per cent of Britain's exports.

Veteran Con Man Seized For Planet Venus Hoax

WASHINGTON, March 26 (INS)—The FBI announced today the arrest in Alabama of a veteran confidence game operator who allegedly bilked two Washington, D. C., residents out of $58,000 by telling them he was in communication with the planet Venus.

The man, Harold Jesse Berney, 58, formerly of Washington but who claims lately to be of Venus, was seized by two FBI agents who recognized him in Pritchard, Ala., near Mobile.

He is accused formally of interstate transportation by wire of information relating to a fraudulent scheme, and causing to be transported from Washington to Pittsburgh securities obtained fraudulently and valued at $10,000.

An FBI spokesman said Berney, who has an arrest record dating 40 years, obtained $38,000 from a Washington woman and another $20,000 from a man to finance a firm, Teleward Corp., which he incorporated in Delaware.

This is how the FBI described Berney's hoax:

He told his victims he had been contacted by representatives of the planet Venus and they selected him to develop a device called a "modulator." He said he met people from Venus in Texas and they took him on a flying saucer to the planet where he studied their culture.

Berney wrote a book on his experience and gave the manuscript to the woman victim which she accepted as proof of the veracity of his story. He used the same device on the man, according to the FBI.

Six European Countries Sign Economic Pact

ROME, March 25 (AP)—Six nations of tired old Europe linked themselves tonight in a giant economic union which could be the first step towards a United States of Europe.

Under the blazing arc lights of television cameras and in a fog of swirling cigarette smoke, statesmen of the six nations signed their names on the treaties for a European common market and the Euratom atomic energy pool. The governments of Italy, France, Western Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg pledged themselves to build a common trade area of 160 million consumers.

Ratification Necessary

The treaties so far are only a pledge. They still have to be ratified by the governments of the six nations. Some diplomats still wonder whether France may back out at the last minute, as she did on the ill-fated plan to build a West European army. Experts figure it will take 12 to 17 years to readjust national economies enough to put the treaties into effect.

Spaak Declines Post

An Italian diplomatic source said Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak had been sounded out on whether he would accept temporary presidency of the new European common market committee. But Spaak declined, this source said, because he will soon begin his new duties as secretary general of NATO.

Signing the nearly 100 copies of the two pacts in German, French, Dutch and Italian were Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, and Foreign Ministers Christian Pineau of France, Gaetano Martino of Italy, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, Joseph Luns of the Netherlands and Joseph Bech of Luxembourg.

Ike, Top Aides Take New Look At Budget

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower and key administration officials took another look at the administration's $71,900,000,000 budget which is the target of economy efforts in Congress.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the meeting was "a continuing study we always have of the budget."

Sitting in on the meeting, along with various White House staff members, were Secretary of State Dulles; Secretary of Defense Wilson; undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter; Budget Director Percival Brundage; Director John B. Hollister of the International Cooperation Administration; and Mansfield Sprague, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs.

Medium size ships can pass through the canal now. But Israel apparently will still be barred.

Senate Group Acts To Avert Tax Rate Drop

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee voted today to continue the present tax rates on corporations and various excises 15 more months, to June 30, 1958.

Unless they are extended, these taxes would drop next Monday by three billion dollars a year. Efforts to provide relief for small businesses failed in the committee.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.), a strong advocate of government economy as a necessary preliminary to tax cuts, put today's action on an emergency basis.

"This is strictly a case where this bill must become law by Sunday or the government will face a big loss of revenue," Byrd said.

Still, Byrd said, "Sentiment was practically unanimous on the committee that small business should be given some relief."

He said there will be other tax bills which it will be possible to amend with small business provisions, as well as other things, but the extension bill could not wait.

Unless there is an extension, the maximum corporation income tax rate will drop from 52 to 47 per cent next Monday and cost the government two billion dollars a year.

Also there would be an accompanying automatic reduction in excises on automobiles, accessories, cigarettes, liquor, beer, wine and other items, to drop government revenues by another billion dollars.

Senate Votes To Give Britain Loan 'Break'

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The Senate approved today an agreement permitting Great Britain to postpone seven annual payments on billions of dollars of loans from the United States.

By a voice vote, it amended a 1945 agreement calling for annual British payments of $134,400,000 toward principal and interest. The amendment would allow postponement until Dec. 31, 2001, of any seven of the annual payments.

President Eisenhower had recommended the action, at the request of Britain which argued that the unsettling economic effects of the recent Middle East fighting would make payments this year a hardship.

The outstanding principal of British loans from the United States totals around $4,060,000,000. House action is necessary to complete approval of the amended agreement.

Beck Keeps Out Of Sight; Faces Probers Today

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Boss Dave Beck of the Teamsters Union apparently arrived in the capital today and went into seclusion until tomorrow when he finally is to face investigating senators.

Beck kept his whereabouts a mystery but Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he received a messenger-delivered note "from Beck himself" indicating Beck was already in town and ready for quizzing tomorrow.

Contents Of Note Withheld

McClellan declined to disclose contents of the note, but said he expects to make it public in the morning when Beck takes the witness stand to face questions on his own and his union's large-scale financial tangles.

McClellan heads the Senate select committee investigating improper labor-management activities. It already has dug up evidence of $270,000 paid by Beck to West Coast Teamsters Union units—beginning in 1954 after the income tax collector started studying Beck's personal fortunes.

Beck has said he borrowed between $300,000 and $400,000 in "loans" from the union while he was chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters. He became union president in 1952.

No Records Of "Loans"

However, the committee says it cannot find any records of "loans"—only records that Beck started repaying the union large sums in 1954. Robert F. Kennedy, the committee's chief counsel, has said the committee knows, and intends to bring out eventually, where Beck got the money to make the "repayments" to the union.

For one thing, Beck sold his Seattle home to the union for $163,000 under an arrangement whereby he continues to occupy it rent-free and tax-free. The committee has charged that union records indicate that union funds helped finance the home's construction in the first place.

Gas Blast In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 25 (AP)—A surge of gas, blamed by fire authorities on a defective regulator on a gas main, caused an explosion in one house and threatened other houses in a Toledo neighborhood today.

There were no injuries.

Fumes Cause Suffering Aboard Snowbound Train

LIBERAL, Kan., March 25 (AP)—Morale was reported high today among stranded passengers aboard a snowbound Rock Island train near here, but many were suffering "headaches, chills and nausea" from carbon monoxide fumes.

First word of the situation of the eastbound Golden State Limited came from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tubbs, of South Bend, Ind., brought here by a Navy helicopter on a rescue doctor's orders. Tubbs suffers from a heart ailment.

"The tragic part of it," Tubbs said, "is that many of the passengers are people in poor health who are on the train after winter stays at Arizona and other winter resorts."

Railroad officials explained that the gas could not have been caused by any equipment aboard the car, but probably accumulated as passengers used up available oxygen and couldn't escape because of snow-covered vents.

Two daring pilots of private planes set up a makeshift shuttle service between Liberal and the train, near Meade, Kan., to supply passengers and train crew with necessities.

Twenty-five of the passengers on the Rock Island's eastbound Golden State Limited were under a doctor's care. All aboard had been without food, water or heat until the two Liberal fliers started their volunteer ferry service.

Snowplows from Dalhart, Tex., were grinding toward the stalled train but rescue was expected to be slow. The Golden State is trapped in a 15-foot cut, behind a derailed locomotive which was pushing a snowplow ahead of the passenger Saturday night when it came to grief.

Freak Storm Claims Lives Of At Least 17

Damage In Millions; Passengers Taken Off Stranded Trains

(By The Associated Press)

Damage and death were wrought by a spring blizzard which snowed in most of the Great Plains Monday, isolating entire communities, and stranding passenger trains, buses and countless automobiles.

Left behind as the giant snowstorm swirled off to the northeast toward the Great Lakes were storm losses expected to run into millions of dollars, as well as inestimable moisture benefit from the heavy snow which drifted up to 20 feet deep.

Rescuers counted at least 17 dead as skies began clearing, allowing them to reach snowbound motorists. Civil Air Patrol planes were operating along with six Army helicopters in western Kansas, scouting isolated highways and farmhouses.

Seven Dead In Illinois

Seven deaths were counted in Illinois as the heaviest spring storm in 30 years, an off-shoot of the high plains blizzard, dumped up to eight inches of snow in parts of that state.

(The Illinois fatalities included five resulting from a head-on automobile collision during a heavy rain near Effingham.)

Storm refugees from the trains, buses and autos overcrowded the small towns, some of which were out of power and water but took in the storm victims without protest.

Approximately 440 passengers of two trains stuck in western Kansas snowdrifts since Sunday were removed by school buses late Monday. Most said they were simply hungry and tired.

Buses Reach Train

Passengers from the stranded westbound City of St. Louis streamliner near Winona, Kan., were taken to Oakley, Kan., by five school buses, Union Pacific headquarters at Omaha said. They were being housed in a school and a Masonic hall.

The other train was the Rock Island's eastbound Golden State Limited from which 225 were rescued after a highway was cleared to the scene, near Meade, Kan. They had been on limited rations, and without water or heat. The locomotive and first five cars of the cross-country flyer were buried under snow in a 15-foot cut.

20 Buses Stranded

At least 20 buses carrying more than 200 passengers were stranded at way points on routes out of Kansas City. Bus companies reported all passengers being cared for.

Greyhound reported three buses tied up at Garden City, Kan.; three at Salina, Kan.; two at Oakley, Kan.; two at Union Corner, Neb.; and one each at Holly, Colo., and Kinsley, Colby, Grinnell and Pierceville, Kan. Continental Trailways reported buses waiting out the storm at Joes, Colo., and St. Francis, Kan. Crown Bus Lines had three chartered buses at Syracuse, Kan.

Four of the storm dead were uncovered in a stranded automobile near Hooker, Okla. Another man was dead in a car near Atwood, Kan. Two more froze to death in Texas. Other attributable deaths included two in Kansas, one in Oklahoma, two in Nebraska, four in Texas and another in Iowa.

Florida Auto Crash Claims Seven Lives

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Seven persons, including an Indianapolis, Ind., couple, were killed late today when two automobiles collided on State Road 60 in south central Florida.

Six of the victims died at the scene and one was dead on arrival at a Vero Beach hospital, about 40 miles to the east.

State Trooper J. J. Maxwell identified the dead as:

James P. Dillon, 70, Indianapolis, and Mrs. Mary M. Dillon, 50, his wife, occupants of one car headed west.

In the other automobile traveling east were Mary Lou Pettis, 29, and Robert Lee Pettis, 15, Fort Pierce, Fla., John Henry Keene Jr., 32, Saul Allen Pendleton, 25, and Wilhelmina Warren Murray, 30, Clearwater, Fla., all Negroes.

U.S. Is Warned Not To Forget Interests In Central America

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The United States was told today that its vital interests in Central America and the Caribbean "are in danger of being overlooked" in its concentration of world-shaking events elsewhere.

A report made public by a special Senate committee studying foreign aid said that Guatemala "provides an object lesson" this country cannot afford to ignore.

It was prepared by James Minotto, Phoenix, Ariz., rancher and a former Mutual Security Agency chief in Portugal. He drafted it for the committee after a survey of Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala and Mexico.

While he said that the threat of Communist subversion in those areas appears "negligible," he declared "events in Guatemala should serve as a reminder that things are not always what they seem."

Guatemala, he said, showed "the ease with which some of these countries can be subverted to a base for mounting a Communist-led psychological offensive against the United States."

Vehicles Dept. Says Point Plan "Cumbersome"

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (AP)—The chairman of the House subcommittee which drafted a proposed point system for revoking drivers' licenses was "amazed" today to hear the deputy commissioner of motor vehicles say his department cannot handle the system "at this time."

The deputy commissioner, W. Dana Rudy, told the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee that the Motor Vehicles Department "wouldn't be able to handle the point system at this time with our lack of space."

Rudy said his department is doing "just about the same thing now" with an "unwritten point system."

On the basis of a driver's conviction record, he said, the department sends out letters of reprimand, then calls for a hearing, then suspends and may finally revoke the license of habitual offenders.

He said a written point system, whereby a driver's license would be automatically suspended if certain violations were committed within a 3-year period, would be more "cumbersome" and harder to handle than the present system.

"And I wonder if it would achieve more," he said.

Trying to pin Rudy down, Committee Chairman Malkus (D-Dorchester) asked:

"If you had more space would you want this system?"

"I'd be willing to try it," Rudy said.

"That's what I call damning with faint praise," said Sen. Dempsey (D-3rd Balto.).

Boy, 12, Admits Killing Teacher

RAPID CITY, S. D., March 25 (AP)—State's Atty. Tom Parker said today a 12-year-old boy, son of a college professor, has admitted that he shot his music teacher, stuffed her lifeless body under the dashboard of her car, then drove it to an abandoned logging road.

William J. Willard, son of Prof. and Mrs. John W. Willard, Rockville, S. D., was held without charge in the death of Miss June Hammon, 41, Rapid City.

After a hearing in Juvenile Court, the boy was ordered to the state mental hospital at Yankton for a psychiatric examination. His father teaches at South Dakota School of Mines here.

Miss Hammon's body was found in her car last Thursday, the day after she was scheduled to go to the Willard home to give the boy a music lesson. The car was found on the remote road near Rockville, 13 miles south of here.

Parker said William told him he "didn't dislike" Miss Hammon, but "just took aim at her head and shot her as she drove away."

The boy was taken into custody after officers found a hole in a window screen at the Willard home, indicating the rifle had been fired from inside the house, where the boy was alone.

Wicomico Co. Legislators Oppose Sales Tax Boost

SALISBURY, Md., March 25 (AP)—[flatly he would not vote for a sales tax increase.

Hanna said he favored an income tax increase of one half of one per cent.

Sen. Nock (D-Wicomico) said in a letter to the meeting that a three per cent sales tax "would adversely affect the economy of the State and particularly the Eastern Shore. I certainly hope injection of a three per cent sales tax is not designed to forego a teachers pay bill. . . ."

William Powell, former president of a retail merchants group, said teachers would get only half of the new sales tax revenue. Similar arguments were made by three other businessmen.

They said there is a need for a teacher raise but said if the sales tax is used to finance it merchants in this area would lose business to those in border counties of adjoining states which do not have the sales tax.

The informal meeting was called by Del. Hanna (D-Wicomico) to discuss a proposal in the General Assembly to hike the sales tax to 3 per cent from its present 2 per cent. Teachers would get a $400-a-year raise.

Representatives of Parent-Teacher groups said the pay raise was necessary now regardless of how it is financed.

An effort was made to get the group to endorse the pay boost even if it meant a sales tax rise. The question never got a vote.

Del. White (D-Wicomico) said he'd fight the sales tax to the last minute and vote for it only if it were the only possible way to get a teacher pay boost.

Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico) said

Drinking Of Kerosene Causes Baby's Death

SALISBURY, Md., March 25 (AP)—A physician ruled yesterday the death of 18-month-old Halistine Smith was caused by the drinking of kerosene.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Smith of nearby Berlin drank more than two tablespoons of kerosene, Dr. Jackson Wu, pathologist at Peninsula General Hospital, made the ruling in the death.

Maryland Marks 323rd Birthday

BALTIMORE, March 25 (AP)—In 1634, about 200 Englishmen landed in Southern Maryland from two small ships, the Ark and the Dove, and founded what is now the Free State.

Gov. McKeldin recalled today, in a Maryland Day speech, that they were Catholic and Episcopalian but all used the same church building, one group at one hour, the others at another.

Maryland citizens are proud, the governor said, that religious tolerance was first granted here.

"The soil of Maryland," he added, "is barren ground for bigots and fanatics and for those who would bear false witness."

Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro also spoke today at ceremonies at the courthouse here marking the state's 323rd birthday.

Youth Forest Camp Bill Being Prepared

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Legislation to establish a nationwide system of forestry camps for rehabilitation of juvenile delinquents is being prepared by a Senate committee.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) chairman of a subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency, reported this today. He said the camps would provide a means by which "many youths could be salvaged for a useful life in society."

Kefauver told of the proposal in a talk on juvenile delinquency at a meeting of the Women's National Democratic Club.

He said forestry camps "have met with marked success" in California, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

But, he said many states cannot afford to build such camps. The legislation being prepared, he said, would authorize federal financial assistance.

Iowa Great-Grandma Wed To French Beau Of Youth

HERBEUVAL, France, March 25 (AP)—Pealing village churchbells and shotgun blasts today announced the marriage of a 72-year-old Iowa great-grandmother and the 73-year-old French beau of her youth.

"Love is a great thing and you proved it today," beamed village priest Father Eugene Ley, who performed the ceremony for his aunt—Mrs. Anna Beck, Marshalltown, Iowa—and Camille Lambert, Herbeuval.

As the happy couple emerged into the springtime sunshine the bells of the little church of St. Michel pealed happily and four sturdy hunters fired double-barreled shotguns in a wedding salute.

Almost the entire village—population 169—thronged the entrance to the church. Herbeuval hadn't had a wedding since 1950.

For Mrs. Beck, who has 7 children, 25 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren in the United States, it was "a dream come true."

"I don't want to live in an old folks' home," she said. "I don't want to bother my children. I want to live my own life and be happy."

Mrs. Beck and Lambert met more than a half a century ago when she, a native of Luxembourg, came to work in Herbeuval.

"Be my girl," Camille, then a dashing 21, asked her. She agreed. But later their ways parted. He went to serve in the French army and she went to the United States. Years after the deaths of their respective spouses, they decided to marry.

"Life isn't for young people only," the white-haired bride told reporters. She said Camille finally has agreed to come and live in the United States because she "wouldn't live anywhere else."

Macmillan Reports To Canadian Leaders

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda, March 25 (AP)—Canada's top officials got a review today of secret agreements reached in the conference between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent of Canada, Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and Trade Minister C. D. Howe flew here for the two-day meeting with Macmillan and his chief aides. Eisenhower flew back to Washington Sunday.

British-Canadian trade problems were high on the new program of talks.

Within a few hours after arrival, Macmillan had filled in St. Laurent and his aides on the secrets of the four-day British-American conference that wound up Sunday morning.

During the Middle Ages, fur was used mainly in male rather than in female garments.

Cadillac

Old Friends in a New Light!

Let's assume you've known them for some time. And now—in the moment of a glance—you first behold them in the company of a Cadillac car.

There's just no question about it... something wonderful happens!

For the presence of a Cadillac car underscores—and most dramatically so—many of the things that enable you to think well of them.

It goes almost without saying that their Cadillac lends form and substance to whatever measure of achievement life may have brought them.

Certainly, it reveals their interest in the safety and well-being of their fellow passengers.

And, most assuredly, it evidences the wisdom with which they select their personal possessions.

Incidentally, you may have noticed, of late, that the Cadillac car has cast its revealing light on an ever-growing number of your own friends.

There is every reason why this should be so.

Its original cost is remarkably modest—and several models are, in fact, priced competitively with those of lesser makes.

Its operating economy is extraordinary—with a record of dependability and longevity that is without equal in the industry.

And its resale value stands at the very summit in used-car markets all across the land.

Certainly, this triumvirate of Cadillac economies deserves your personal investigation—and your dealer will be delighted to tell you the whole wonderful story at any time.

Stop in soon—for a ride and a revelation!

Signer Asks His Name Stricken From Petition

The Mayor and Council yesterday filed, without comment, a letter from Bertram K. Lazarus, asking that his name be stricken from a petition being circulated here in favor of a referendum on the sale of a $500,000 bond issue by the city.

Lazarus, in a letter, said he had "misunderstood the intention" of the petition.

Petitions being circulated will require 20 per cent of the qualified voter signatures in order to bring the issue to a vote. Petitioners have 40 days from date of passage to submit the names to council. That would be April 6, a Saturday.

The issue was approved by council February 25.

Council voted payment of $1,340 to Municipal Concert Band representing its expenses in connection with concerts and rehearsals.

Area Resident Is Killed In Truck Crash

A 53-year-old Hampshire county man was fatally injured in a one-vehicle crash Sunday near Points, W. Va.

Victim of the mishap was Jesse Theodore Saville, husband of Mrs. Mildred E. Saville, of Slanesville, W. Va., who was found dead in the wreckage.

Sgt. Robert Schnell of the West Virginia State Police detachment at Romney, said the man was killed when his pickup truck overturned on County Route 3 near Points.

Sgt. Schnell said Saville was alone at the time, and apparently lost control of his vehicle in attempting to make a slight curve. The vehicle upset, throwing Saville out, and the truck landed on the victim, police said.

A. L. Russell, Hampshire county coroner, said death was due to a broken neck.

Sgt. Schnell said the County Route 3 is not heavily traveled, and the time of the accident is not known. Police have asked area residents who might have noticed the accident to supply information. It is estimated Saville had been dead several hours before a passing motorist noticed the wreck.

He was a son of Mrs. Lura (Saville) Snyder, of Slanesville, and the late James Saville.

Besides his widow and mother he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Leo Chillemi, Vienna, Va., and Carolyn Saville, at home; two sons, Lloyd Saville, Hyattsville and Teddy Saville, Shepherdstown; two sisters, Mrs. Juanita Bloom, Winchester, and Mrs. Katherine McKee, Roanoke, Va.; five brothers, Roy Saville, Augusta; Frank Saville, Cleveland; Milton Saville, El Paso, Texas; Earl Saville, California, and Rev. Curtis Saville, Jane Lew, W. Va., and four grandchildren.

The body is at the McKee Funeral Home in Augusta and will be taken to the residence today. Services will be conducted Wednesday at 11 a. m. in the Salem Methodist Church by Rev. Layman Channell, pastor. Interment will be in the Salem Cemetery.

Court Hears Arguments On Bond Validity

Arguments were heard yesterday by Chief Judge George Henderson in Circuit Court on an equity suit brought by a resident of Frostburg to determine whether the community has the right to hold a special election on a $100,000 bond issue to acquire a site and contribute to the erection of a garment plant.

William S. Jenkins brought the "friendly" suit against the city and Board of Election Supervisors of Frostburg asking for a restraining order and injunction to prevent the election.

William C. Walsh presented the arguments for Jenkins while Edward J. Ryan, attorney for the city, presented Frostburg's case. The hearing was held in order to determine the validity of a section of Frostburg's charter pertaining to such a bond issue.

Judge Henderson said he would make a decision in the case this week. It has been proposed that the City of Frostburg acquire a site and contribute to the cost of erecting a plant for the Cumberland Undergarment Company in the community.

Before a bond issue can be sold there must be a legal opinion clearing the way for the sale.

Firm Protests Purchases From Outside City

Mike Dusic, wholesale produce firm proprietor, asked the Mayor and Council yesterday to look into Memorial Hospital purchases which are going to "outside interests."

Dusic said the hospital is buying most of its produce from a Pennsylvania concern, adding "What little business I get is what they forget."

Dusic said he had served the hospital for eight or 10 years until a dietician change was made at the hospital. He added he had contacted John A. Moberly, Memorial superintendent, and had been told that produce purchases were made by the dietician.

Dusic said he did not believe the fact the purchases are going elsewhere is a "question of price." He said that in the past he had sold as much as $1,000 a month to the hospital but lately that had dropped to $150 a month or below.

On other matters, council approved appointment of Hazel Brobst as an aide in the Recreation Department senior citizen program. She will be paid $1 an hour.

The J. H. Holzshu Company said it wished to buy city-owned lots on Laing, Montreal, Quebec avenues and Franks Lane for $4.-Boulevard.

City Wage Talks Open

The Mayor and Council discussed a request for a wage increase with representative of Local 812, Municipal Employees Union yesterday and set a meeting with police and firemen for next week on the same subject.

The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association asked for a meeting with council to talk over an adjustment in wage scales and working conditions. That session is set for next Monday at 11 a. m.

Local 812 said it would like to have a "substantial increase" in a letter to council last week.

In the meeting with city employees, Mayor Roy W. Eves said the general financial picture of the city was reviewed including a proposed referendum on a $500,000 bond issue which the city approved February 25. Until such time as the picture clears, the city will not know whether it has to decrease its budget.

Council agreed that while it is in sympathy with the request for an increase, it requested that another meeting be arranged later.

But council instructed City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery to write the local real estate firm and inform it the city has an order on the books against the sale of lots which might be involved in the right-of-way for the Industrial avenues and Franks Lane for $4.-Boulevard.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

No other car even challenges its performance!

Here are some figures for comparison. We believe they talk louder than words, and that you will find this message worth reading.

So much has been said about the good looks of the 1957 Chrysler that you may have the impression its reputation rests on styling alone. The truth is it's even more impressive in action. Three performance figures prove this. Here is the first: Chrysler's Firepower V-8 engine packs 325 hp (and up to 375 hp in the Chrysler 300-C), tops in the industry.

Is horsepower the only way you judge performance? Certainly not. There's engine displacement and torque. Chrysler's displacement is 392 cu. in. What about torque, the real pay-dirt power that turns the wheels? Chrysler's torque is 430 lb.-ft. at 2800 rpm, again tops in the industry.

More power than you need? Maybe. But it means unquestioned command of the highway when you want it. It means your Chrysler will stay like new much longer because it can loaf where other cars strain. So you see, when we call this car the Mighty Chrysler we mean just that... the mightiest on the highway! Come in and drive it soon.

Huge Outdoor Show At Hagerstown Will Tell Story Of Scouting In Mason-Dixon Boy Scout Council

The wonderful and exciting story of Scouting, as only 2,500 boys can tell it, will come to life in Hagerstown this Spring in the form of a huge outdoor spectacle entitled "Adventure Unlimited."

"Adventure Unlimited", words which in recent weeks have come to mean a good deal to thousands of Scouts and adult leaders in this section of Maryland and Pennsylvania, will unfold the entire story of Scouting when the two-day performance opens May 10 at the Municipal Stadium in Hagerstown.

On May 10-11, over 2,500 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts from the Waynesboro-Hagerstown areas will join together to put on for the first time in this section a five-act show which will reveal the entire Scout program in startling detail.

Months of planning to date have gone into this "Adventure Unlimited" show, with many more weeks of intensified effort required before the opening performance gets underway.

Aside from furnishing a vivid and accurate description of what Scouting means to a boy, "Adventure Unlimited" also is designed to give parents a fuller understanding of the overall Scout program.

Through its prevailing "Onward For God and My Country" theme, this outdoor program is expected to quicken every boy's "pride in belonging" to a Scout unit, at the same time giving him something more meaningful in his daily life.

Planned In Five Acts

The combined resources of the national Scout organization's Mason-Dixon Council, composed of the Washington County and Tuscarora District in Waynesboro, and outlying communities, together with hundreds of adult Scout

DELUXE! LOW PRICE! WESTINGHOUSE LAUNDROMAT®

REVOLVING AGITATOR THAT PASSES THE SAND TEST!

The test: On "live" TV, 2 cups of sand representing heavy soil are dumped on towels in three well-known center-post agitator washers and in a Revolving Agitator Laundromat. After all complete their cycles, center-post machines leave towels and washers in a sandy mess. Laundromat leaves not a grain of sand in towels or washer.

HERE'S WHY THE LAUNDROMAT IS BEST...

Washes Cleaner! There's no old-fashioned center-post. Clothes go inside Revolving Agitator which lifts and plunges them 50 times a minute.

Rinses Better! Revolving Agitator lifts clothes while soil and dirty water drain away from them. Center-post machines strain it all back through them.

Cleans Itself! Because of its patented design, the Laundromat cleans clothes, then cleans itself—automatically! All sand, suds, lint go down the drain.

Farmers Need Proof Of Age For Benefits

Social Security Rules Outlined

Farmers who are giving up the operation of their farms and intend to apply for old-age insurance benefits under the Social Security program, should bring necessary proof to support their claims when they visit the local Social Security office, James E. Robertson, manager, noted yesterday.

"If you have proof of age and earnings with you when you come to the office it will speed up the processing of your claim and make a return visit unnecessary," Mr. Robertson pointed out. A farmer when he retires and applies for old-age benefits will need extra copies of his 1955 and 1956 Federal income tax returns, proof of age, his social security tax receipts for 1955 and 1956, and his social security account number card.

For a self-employed farmer making a claim for old-age insurance benefits proof of earnings is a "must." He should bring along a canceled check, money-order stub, or some other evidence to show that his income tax returns for 1955 and 1956 were filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue.

If his wife has passed her 62nd birthday and is making a claim for old-age benefits at the same time, it is important that she, too, bring along proof of age. A birth certificate, of course, is the best proof of age. However, those who do not have one, and cannot obtain one within a reasonable period of time, should not put off filing their claim for that reason, Mr. Robertson says. Usually, people have other papers around the house that will serve as adequate proof of age. Such documents, in order of acceptability, are: Baptismal certificate; census registration; hospital record; foreign church or government record; signed statement by attending physician or midwife; family Bible; naturalization, immigration, military, or vaccination record; insurance policies; or a marriage record. "The older the document, the better the proof," Mr. Robertson declares.

Optimist Club To Meet

The Cumberland Optimist Club will hold its weekly dinner meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Court House Tag Sale Is Heavy

Even though the rest of the Court House was closed yesterday in observance of Maryland Day, employees in the tax office were kept busy doing a flourishing business selling 1957 Maryland automobile license plates.

Incidentally, this week is the final week the 1956 tags may be displayed on autos in Maryland and the new ones are to be attached by Monday, April 1. J. Wallace Close, tax collector, said yesterday his office at the Court House will face a busy day since at least 1,000 tags a day are expected to be sold each day. Yesterday over 600 tags were sold bringing the total this year to the neighborhood of 12,000 sales.

A spot check of vehicles traveling south on Mechanic Street yesterday afternoon showed that 27 of 50 still bore 1956 tags. However, this included about a half-dozen trucks and license tags for those vehicles go on sale the first of April.

Tags for privately-owned trucks may be purchased at the Court House but tags for tractor-trailers and commercial fleets must be purchased from Baltimore. Motorcyclists are also reminded tags must be purchased from Baltimore.

Potomac Park Citizens Will Meet Tonight

The Citizens Committee of Potomac Park Addition of Allegany County will have a meeting tonight to elect officers and adjudge the tax levy for the 1957-58 fiscal year starting July 1. This meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p. m. in the United Brethren Church in Potomac Park. The present supplemental levy for Potomac Park Addition is 10 cents on each $100 assessed valuation to pay for the community lights.

Group Meets Tonight

James B. Arnold, the 24-year-old Montgomery County youth assumed duties a week ago as Allegany County's assistant agent, will meet tonight with the 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club at Collins' garage, Baltimore Pike and Naves Crossroad.

This will be the fourth and next-to-last session of the tractor club. The instructors are two of the advance 4-H Club members, Edward Miller of Midland and William Baker of Murley's Branch.

Fletcher Resigns

the city would have to fill the post of stenographer and one area supervisor, since Mrs. Hogan and Eugene C. Mason, now on the staff, would serve in the supervisor posts, and Robert R. Golden will continue to supervise Construction Park.

When Buchholz insisted on a concrete figure on costs, Fletcher said the plan is set up to cost $30,020.

The Recreation Board, Mr. Weber said, has made no recommendations on costs, since that is up to the Mayor and Council.

Asks Salary Boost

The board, Mrs. Florence Yankelevitz, secretary said, has assumed the cost of operation would be the same as present budgets.

Chief Judge George Henderson said the board assumed budgets were more or less constant but that if part of the funds in the park budget were non-recurring, the consolidated budget might have to be reduced.

Judge Henderson, at this point introduced the second board request—a salary increase for Mrs. Hogan.

Mr. Buchholz agreed the salary should be increased but not until something can be done for everybody.

Judge Henderson pointed out Mrs. Hogan holds an executive position and gets only $200 a month. He termed the scale inequitable and said the request for an increase should be passed on by the Council as a whole.

"Is it fair," Mr. Weber queried, "to pay an administrator less ($200) than a scrubwoman ($229)?"

He said others are interested in hiring Mrs. Hogan and asked what the city would do to replace her.

Buchholz said he had talked with Mrs. Hogan and she is satisfied to wait until the budget is set.

Mrs. Yankelevitz said the board feels the salary should be increased under the present budget.

Requests Answer

"Is this a good thing?" Judge Henderson insisted is the principal issue.

He said the consolidation was proposed by the Board some time ago and that the Board wants a definite answer.

He told Buchholz the plan would take from him certain things and suggested that his job he might like to be relieved of some of the tasks.

Buchholz said the plan would involve a basic change in the charter and is working on a plan of his own which would operate under the Department of Streets and Public Property.

Judge Henderson said the whole plan is a matter for the Council to decide.

Buchholz said the Council in the next week or 10 days should sit down and discuss the plan off the record.

"Why not on the record?" Judge Henderson asked. Mr. Keegan said yesterday's meeting was the first time he had received reasons for combining the departments, and later suggested the get-together be held after Monday's Council meeting.

Mr. Weber said the Board wants to know whether the Mayor and Council think the plan is workable.

Buchholz said he is working on a plan to give Recreation an employee or two who can do only light work. To this, Judge Henderson told Buchholz he apparently preferred to take over instead of the Rec Board.

"Are we working under you, or the Mayor and Council?" Arch M. Hutcheson asked Buchholz.

Difficult To Divide This point was cleared by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, who said Buchholz had jurisdiction insofar as the use of public property was involved. He added that if the recreation program used no city-owned property, and if it were just a question of administrative set-up and budget, it would not come under the Streets and Public Property department.

He said the function was placed in Streets in a former administration and is now so intermingled it would be difficult to divide.

Mr. Fletcher said he took a pay cut to take the job at $6,000. This is $60 a year less than Mr. Pence received.

Mr. Buchholz said he has not interfered with the department and wants to keep recreation out of politics and also is "interested in retaining the authority" he now has.

Mayor Eves told the Board that in view of Buchholz' attitude it was no use to wait.

The Board, he said, has a right, is entitled, to an answer from the Mayor and Council.

Mayor Backs Plan So far, Mayor Eves said, the Commissioner (he referred to Buchholz) has assumed he has all the answers, and has not asked the Mayor to discuss.

"As Mayor," he said, "I am heartily in favor of consolidation."

He added that although there may be some details to work out, he heartily concurred with the Board's recommendations on consolidation.

"At no time," he insisted, "has Mr. Buchholz asked my opinion."

He said details can be worked out since the plan must be approved by the Mayor and Council.

Judge Henderson said the Board asked Mr. Buchholz for a meeting over a month ago but received no reply.

Mr. Finan pointed out there has been a feeling that any Chairman Boone did not vote and five committee members were absent.

Of those making a final choice, Robinson, Hanna, Meyers, McNeal, Reed and Urban had expressed a preference earlier for the income tax.

The teacher pay bill, a major problem for the Legislature this session, will be brought to the floor after enactment of Gov. McKeldin's budget and the State capital improvements program. Boone said the House would not act on the budget until tomorrow. The bill already has passed the Senate.

The committee decided that whatever tax program is finally adopted will be written into the teacher pay bill, so that it must be accepted or rejected as a package.

The delegates approved minimum prices on bottled liquor and to repeal of a tax exemption for military servicemen except in time of combat.

The effort to prevent price cutting on liquor and wine would require manufacturers to file minimums with the State comptroller. He would see that retailers didn't sell for less.

Subject to Senate approval, the fair trade prices would prevail in all except Montgomery county. It asked to be exempt because the county has a liquor monopoly and faces the threat of price cutting in nearby Washington.

recreation director has three bosses, the Rec Board, Buchholz and the Mayor.

Mrs. Yankelevitz said she could not see the function of the rec board if the director is under the jurisdiction of just one person.

The meeting ended with Judge Henderson saying the board had submitted its proposal, and Keegan saying the Mayor and Council will discuss it.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 25 (INS)—"Waltz of the Toreador," Jean Anouilh's comedy, which has taken Broadway by storm, as it did London, has been bought for motion pictures by Charles Feldman, who will make it independently for one of the majors. In New York, Ralph Richardson and Mildred Dunnick play the top roles.

When I saw "Waltz" in London last summer I didn't visualize this as a motion picture. It is screamingly funny but I thought the comedy, although spicy, had the flavor of another period. My escort that night was just crazy about it and felt it should be on the screen. It's such a hit in London, it's still playing to crowded houses.

The Freemans and the Seaton's will be Winthrop Rockefeller's guests at the premiere March 30.

Hugh ("Wyatt Earp") O'Brien telephoned from New York to say that he has bought a treatment of the life of Bat Masterson. Bat lived in the same era as Earp and was the first sheriff of Dodge City. Hugh plans to make the life of Masterson as an independent venture.

He'll tell all the hectic story when Bat was chasing the James brothers to try to bring them to justice, until as an old man he worked on the Morning Telegraph and died at his desk. I can very well tell this story, because it was I who walked in and found Bat, who was writing the word "opportunity" as he died.

David D. Beck, The Capitalist

"My own good fortune has given me an understanding of the problems of employers, I suppose." David D. Beck, Teamsters Union boss, so described his outlook back in 1953, less than a year after his election to succeed Daniel J. Tobin. Without being flip, you could say that as a labor leader Dave Beck makes a good banker. Pink-faced, bald, and chunky, with pale-blue eyes, Beck looks like a banker and dresses like a banker, neatly and conservatively. He doesn't drink, smoke or gamble. He has been described as a millionaire by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Senate committee investigating the Teamsters; associates have called him a multi-millionaire. And by shrewd money management he has built the Teamers' treasury to $37 million—a gain of $9 million in less than five years.

Dave Beck is a confirmed capitalist. "I saw that general strike in Seattle when I came out of the first World War," he recalls, "and it scared me to death. It was raw revolution. I didn't want any part of it."

Beck's record in dealing with racketeers is contradictory. When the head of a Washington state local was cited by the State Crime Commission, Beck slapped a trusteeship on the local 15 minutes after word of the testimony reached him. He was restrained by a federal judge for using "un-American methods" in cleaning up locals in New York state.

But Beck and James R. Hoffa, Teamster vice president, opposed the "Ethical Practices Codes" adopted by the AFL-CIO Executive Council in Miami last January 31. Hoffa is under federal indictment for attempting to obtain information from the files of the present Senate investigating committee, before which Beck is to appear today. Four other high teamster officials, including a business partner of Beck, Frank W. Brewster, also a Teamster vice president, were indicted March 18 for contempt of the Senate. And Beck is sending out "100 to 150" solicitors to Teamster locals to raise funds to cover legal expenses of the indicted officers.

We Pay Ransom

How much is an American life worth? Up to March, 1952, the United States remitted nearly $800,000 for the purpose of obtaining the departure from Red China of American citizens, representatives of American business firms and missionary organizations. Since March, 1952, the United States has authorized the further payment of $1,530,000 for remittance to Red China for the same purpose.

Thus, the United States has authorized the payment of approximately $2,330,000 to Red China as ransom money to free Americans from that country. The Red Chinese do not call it ransom money but collect it on various pretexts which would not be tolerated elsewhere.

The first payment so shocked some Americans that this colloquy occurred in the United States Senate on March 25, 1952:

"Mr. Ferguson. Does not the payment of these sums, totaling $800,000, amount to trading with the enemy?"

"Mr. Knowland. There can be no question that it is trading with the enemy. It represents blackmail and extortion practiced by the Chinese Communists."

"Mr. Ferguson. This situation does not differ very much from the incident in Hungary, to whom we paid $120,000 to have certain American fliers released from jail after they had been placed in jail. In this case the threat is to place certain persons in jail unless payments are made."

"Mr. Knowland. That is correct. In the other case we paid the money from the United States Treasury. In this case we permit certain persons to pay with American funds of their own."

"Mr. Knowland. That is correct. Approximately $800,000 has been paid, and apparently only four have been released, so the price of blackmail is steadily increasing."

That all this is ransom money is demonstrably proven by a statement issued recently by the Secretary of the Treasury, John Snyder, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, on April 17, 1952, the first paragraph of which reads:

"American concerns whose representatives are detained in Communist China will be licensed under the Foreign Assets Control Regulations to pay claims against their Chinese agencies only on the basis of arrangements assuring that the interested concern's representatives are safely released to an area outside Communist China, such as Hong Kong, before the funds are sent into China."

This is the policy which is undoubtedly still being pursued, because as of March 7, 1957, I find no indication of a change. The policy is that the Government of the United States will permit the payment of ransom money to rescue Americans detained by Red China under one pretext or another. How many are detained is not known precisely; the figure given for civilians is nine, but about 450 military personnel have been unaccounted for and are presumed lost in action, although no one knows for sure. Are they all lost or are some held as hostages for future ransom?

This is a recital of facts without comment as to the morality of paying ransom or permitting such payment. The alternative is to send American troops into the country to free American hostages. When a country become addicted to pacifism, anything could happen to it. The Red Chinese strengthen themselves with their own people by humiliating the "white" nations who for a little more than a century exerted power over them. That power Dr. Sun Yat-sen called semi-colonialism. To hold an American for ransom is to prove American weakness and Chinese superiority. Certainly to pay ransom money is cowardly. The Red Chinese hope that they will establish it as a fact that the "white" peoples are cowardly.

Another Day, Another Dollar

Humphrey Seems To Be Getting His Way Again

WASHINGTON

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey seems likely to have his way in the end, as is his custom. In other words, the national program to emerge from the current session of Congress will probably be much more a Humphrey program than an Eisenhower program.

In the struggle within the Eisenhower Administration which preceded the President's budget message, Humphrey of course fought and bled to hold down and cut back the budget. But his power in the Administration is not quite what it was, and in this preliminary struggle he suffered a partial defeat.

For example, the requested fiscal 1958 defense budget was up somewhat more than $2 billion over the sum requested for the current year. This is a lot less than the $6 billion increase which Gen. Nathan Twining, Air Force Chief of Staff, said last year would be necessary to maintain current Air Force strength. Even so, it is certainly more than Humphrey wanted to spend for defense.

It is too early to make any precise predictions about the defense budget which will eventually emerge from Congress. But the best guess of the best guessers is that defense, which was increased by $900 million by the Senate last year, will be cut back this year by between one and two billion. This is close to what Humphrey wanted in the first place.

Again, it is no secret that Humphrey is less than an enthusiast for foreign aid. He was no doubt disappointed when the Fairchild Committee, which was largely his creation, failed to propose cutting the liver and lights out of the program. But again, Humphrey seems likely to have his way in the end. Current estimates on Capitol Hill are that foreign aid will be reduced by between $1 billion and $1.5 billion.

Or take the Eisenhower-sponsored program for federal aid to schools, with a price tag of just under a half billion dollars in the Eisenhower budget. The school aid bill is probably the most important item in the Eisenhower program of "new Republicanism."

A few weeks ago, it looked as though the school bill would pass rather easily, if the civil rights hurdle could be overcome. Now, there is an increasing tendency in both parties to shy away from the bill. The present prospect is that it will pass only if the President himself is prepared to make a real fight for it.

If the bill does not pass it is exceedingly unlikely that George Humphrey, who is hardly an evangelical "modern Republican," will shed tears for it. Nor will he weep very bitterly if the costly farm program, another "modern Republican" item, is cut back sharply, as also seems possible.

In short, something rather close to the kind of budget Humphrey wanted in the first place seems likely to emerge.

Humphrey's famous "curl your hair" press conference, in which he attacked the Administration budget head-on, was the real kick-off for the cut-spending campaign. The campaign, pushed by the Chamber of Commerce and similar organizations, has flooded Congressional offices knee-deep in mail.

While the pressure to cut is much heavier than ever, moreover, the defense of the President's budget is disheartening. Ordinarily, an Administration defends its budget with all the ferocity of a mother protecting a favorite child. But this Administration is acting toward its budget more like a mother who leaves an unwanted child on a strange doorstep.

It is hardly surprising that the defense of the budget is weak, since the President himself, commenting on Humphrey's statement, seemed to agree with him. In the circumstances, the Republicans feel no obligation to defend the Eisenhower budget, and neither, naturally enough, do the Democrats.

Altogether, it is a queer situation, and a tribute to the power and pertinacity of George M. Humphrey, a man accustomed to getting his way. If Humphrey's getting his way means wrecking or watering down the whole Eisenhower program, in the defense, foreign aid, and domestic fields, no one seems to care very much, not even President Eisenhower.

Investigation Of Dave Beck's Income Taxes Launched By Harry Truman

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—It has been known for some time that Dave Beck, potent, harassed, and harried head of the teamsters, was under income-tax scrutiny. But it has not been known how the investigation started. It can now be revealed that it was actually ordered by President Harry Truman and has been continued by Internal Revenue since.

Income-tax troubles are considered to be the reason why the big teamster boss has been so frantically selling off big wads of real estate and why he also went before the union's executive council to sell his home and his furniture to the union, even though the union had already paid for various repairs on the home, and thus paid for part of it twice.

The skein of Beck's farflung business operations is difficult to unravel. The tax agents have been working on it for some time and find that he has real estate all the way from the Washington, D. C., suburbs to the west coast.

However, here is a quick look at part of his financial empire: Early in Beck's career his family got into the beer business. Not content with organizing the beer-wagon drivers, Beck organized the brewery workers. They had their own union, but he moved in and made them part of the teamsters. Then Beck's nephew, Norman Gessert, became president of Sunset Distributors which handles Rainier beer in north Seattle. Beck himself, with his wife, has owned about 1,000 shares of Rainier stock.

Budweiser And Beck Jr.

Dave Beck Jr. is also president of K and L Beverage Co., which now handles Budweiser. For a long time, no eastern beer was allowed to enter Seattle. The teamsters wouldn't permit it. It was not distributed. But now Dave Beck's son has the distributorship for Anheuser-Busch of St. Louis.

Dave Beck's wife, Dorothy, also holds stock in K and L Distributors which sells not only beer, but whisky and wine as far north as Alaska. So the Beck family is right in the beer business from far back to brewery.

The Teamsters' constitution, by the way, requires that its international president shall "devote all his time to the service of the Brotherhood."

Another part of Beck's financial empire which the tax agents have taken a look at is his real estate and his finance agency. The latter, the Northwest Securities Corp., is an automobile finance agency which does about $2,000,000 worth of business annually on new and used cars, plus auto insurance.

Beck has borrowed part of the money for his business ventures from his own union, as he himself said, to the tune of $300,000 to $400,000 without interest. He has also borrowed from the Occidental Life Ins. Co. of California, which handles the health and welfare funds for 300,000 teamsters in the 12 western states. It has been glad to lend Beck money at around 3½ per cent, even at a time when veterans were paying 4 per cent.

With this financial backing, Beck has acquired a large interest in the swankiest apartment house in Seattle, Grosvenor House. It's a 356-unit building located across from Teamster headquarters worth about $3,500,000. A group of local businessmen built it, made Beck chairman of the board, and he is now probably the chief owner.

Beck also organized the D and B Investment Corp. and owns part of the LBG Realty Corp. Through them he has acquired apartment houses, parking lots, beer-distributing buildings, etc., all around Seattle.

Family Sales

Some of these were sold in a hurry when he was reported to be anxious to raise tax money.

They were sold in many cases to his family or to family corporations at very nice prices. For instance, Beck owned a piece of property on 14th Avenue in Seattle which was being used by Sunset Distributors, which is owned by his nephew, Norman Gessert, by Mrs. Beck's niece, and by a Teamster official, Albert Irvine. Beck had purchased the building for $45,000 in 1951 and sold it in 1955 to his family beer-distributing company for $100,000. He doubles his money in four years.

Beck also sold two lots on East Marginal Way to another of his firm, the K and L Distributing Co., had been occupying the lots, and Beck sold them to the Cosmopolitan Co., of which Dave Beck Jr. is president, with his nephew Gessert and a Teamster official, Simon Wampold, officers of the company.

Thus it was hard to say where Beck's interest began and left off. At any rate he made a profit of $134,000 on the lots, having held them eight years.

The Union Buys

Another interesting real-estate transaction was Beck's sale of two lots to his own union for $107,000. The deeds show that Beck paid $1 each for the lots, which are located right across from Teamster Seattle headquarters, therefore obviously property the union someday would need. However, Beck bought them in 1951 for the registered price of $1 each, though there may have been some other unrecorded consideration.

At any rate, the teamsters considered them valuable enough to buy them from Beck in 1956 for $107,000, which made some people wonder why they hadn't bought the lots in the first place. As president of the union, Beck could have let his union buy this valuable property instead of acquiring it himself at a recorded price of $2.

All this is part of the farflung ramifications of Dave Beck's financial empire. Another column on Beck will follow later.

Am frequently asked how my folks happened to bestow the name of Edgar upon me. Naturally I indignantly made that inquiry as soon as I learned to talk. I was informed it was my sister's idea. When my naming was being discussed, she spoke up and said, "Let's call it Edgar." It was bad enough for her to suggest the name of Edgar but to refer to such a beautiful baby as I was as "It" was really adding insult to injury. However, I have since forgiven her. She was only five at the time.

GUIDE TO GALS

Females born under Libra (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) have an intense enthusiasm for gaiety. They are unusually romantic. Still they are practical and somewhat cynical and never let their romantic tendencies get the better of them. Even at cocktail parties and on moonlight strolls their defense is not weakened and they have everything under control. Their desire is great for beautiful attire, jewelry and expensive provocative perfumes. Are very dangerous to trust with charge accounts. They resent familiarity on first acquaintance. Never should be kissed on the first date. But don't wait too long. The third date is about right. Libra women are always late for a date but if the man is late they say mean things to the poor fellow. They don't want to talk about business or politics. If you want to make progress with a Libra, talk about her. Or, so say the stargazers.

Sportsmanship Trophy Presented Beall High

Award Is Accepted At Maryland Day Special Assembly

Presentation of the Sportsmanship Trophy to Beall High School by the Allegany County Sportsman's Commission highlighted a special Maryland Day Assembly yesterday at the Frostburg school.

Beall High was adjudged the winner of the award for the 1956-57 basketball season by the commission which judged thirty games at the six county public high schools. Bruce High School was the first winner during the 1955-56 season.

Fort Hill High School had charge of the opening exercises and Thomas Ward, of Allegany High School, master of ceremonies.

Variety numbers included a piano solo by Patti Smith, Allegany High School; vocal selections, "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "They Didn't Believe Me" by Bonnie Kookon, of Bruce High, accompanied by Pat Kelly, also of Bruce; song and dance by Judy McKenzie and Jeannine Murray, of Fort Hill; poem by Lawrence Stowell, Mt. Savage, with accompaniment and piano solo by Roberta Lashley, and vocal duet, "True Love" by George Winters and Jean Foote, of William High School.

William J. Faherty, chairman of the Allegany County Sportsman's Commission, and Robert E. Pence, representing the Allegany County Board of Education, spoke briefly on sportsmanship after which the honor guard, composed of Jean Breedlove, Allegany; Robert Boal, Bruce; Judy Wilson, Fort Hill; Don Messenger, Mt. Savage, and Bob Hyde, Valley, was introduced by Susan Vanarsdale, president of the student council of Bruce High School.

In presenting the large trophy to Connie Filsinger, president of the Beall High Student Council, Miss Vanarsdale said: "Last year when Bruce High School was awarded the Sportsmanship Trophy, we had a feeling of great pride and satisfaction. We were proud of the trophy, but more important, we were satisfied that through our extra effort and cooperation we were able not only to develop better sportsmanship but to practice during basketball season in hopes of winning a trophy, but would also exist in all other competitive activities in school and throughout our daily lives.

"This year Beall, having an even better concept of the idea of sportsmanship and the purpose of this commission, most deserves this trophy and the recognition of all concerned for the superior attitude you have displayed throughout the basketball season."

Filsinger presented the trophy to Dr. Wayne Hill, principal of Beall High School.

Bob Lemon Will Seek 20 Victories 8th Time

Bob Grove Did It, Johnson's 12 Tops

TUCSON, Ariz. March 25 (INS)—Bob Lemon, the new dean of the Cleveland Indians' pitching staff, is gunning to become the third pitcher in American League history to win 20 games for as many as eight seasons.

If the 36-year-old sinker ball specialist turns the trick during the 1957 season, he will join Walter Johnson and Lefty Grove in forming a new elite "Big Three" in baseball's record book. Johnson posted 12, 20-game winning seasons, however, is not too confident he'll be able to break the 20-game victory barrier this season. In fact, the ace right-hander predicts a gloomy future for any hurler who has aspirations of crashing into the club.

"It'll be no easy trick for me, or any other pitcher to win 20 games this year," Lemon said. "The reason for Lemon's pessimism is his belief that the 1957 American League pennant race, contrary to what most experts think, will not be a runaway with the New York Yankees having things their way.

Bob predicts that it will be a four-team affair involving Detroit, Boston, Cleveland and the defending champion Yankees.

But despite his not-so-rosy outlook, Lemon's record indicates that his chances of repeating as a 20-game winner are excellent. The converted infielder-outfielder became a regular hurler for the Indians in 1948 when he won 20 while losing 14 to help pace the Tribe to its first pennant in 28 years.

He then won 22 in '49 and 23 in '50. In the next year, he regained his form and recorded 22 triumphs. The next two seasons, he won 21 and 23 games, respectively. In 1955, he dropped out of the 20-game winner club, when he registered a record of 18-10, but last year he regained his pitching touch and once again climbed into the circle.

Dodgers Beat Yankees, 1-0, In 11 Innings

John Podres Hurls Six Hitless Frames

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Johnny Podres, who shut out the New York Yankees to wrap up Brooklyn's World Series championship in 1955, today held the Yankees hitless in a six-inning Yankee loss to the Dodgers won 1-0 in an 11-inning exhibition game last night.

The winning run was scored by Don Demeter, who opened the final frame with a double off Al Cicotte and Gil McDougald threw wild to third after fielding Roy Campanella's grounder.

Podres, who was in the Navy last year, faced only 18 batters today. Andy Carey walked in the third and Darrell Johnson hit into a double play. Billy Martin was safe on Pee Wee Reese's error in the fourth, but was out at second when left fielder Junior Gilliam recovered and threw to Don Zimmer.

Don Drysdale followed Podres and retired eight straight batters until Tommy Byrne, the second Yankee pitcher, accounted for the Yankees' first hit with two out in the ninth.

Don Larsen, the perfect game pitcher, the last time he faced Brooklyn, limited the Dodgers to four hits in the first five innings. Byrne gave up two in the next five.

Lemon, who is now entering his 14th season as a Redskin and 12th as a member of the hurling corps, reports that he is in good physical shape.

"I'm not worried about getting through the season, if I can get through spring training," Lemon said.

Yogi Berra Joins Yanks' Sick List

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 25 (AP)—The New York Yankees came up with another ailing player today when Yogi Berra reported with a stiff neck and did not start in the exhibition game against Brooklyn.

Berra joined outfielder Mickey Mantle and first baseman Bill Skowron on the sick list. Mantle, who sprained an ankle last night, was kept out yesterday, left here for St. Petersburg on crutches. Skowron is resting a fractured thumb.

Archie Moore Will Defend Title June 7

Light-Heavy Champ Meets Anthony Or Spieser In Detroit

DETROIT, March 25 (AP)—Aleges Archie Moore agreed today to defend his light heavyweight championship June 7 in Detroit's first title fight in more than six years. He will meet the winner of an April 5 bout between Chuck Spieser and Tony Anthony.

The champion, who has been idle since his fifth-round knockout last November at the hands of heavyweight titlist Floyd Patterson, came to Detroit from his San Diego home to accept terms for his first title defense in a year.

Between wisecracks and strokes on his goatee—which the 39-year-old champion himself modestly described as "majestic"—Moore reported his weight now is 210. That means he'll have to take off 35 pounds before the nationally televised 15-round on June 7.

"No trouble, no trouble," said Archie. "You know I got that mysterious weight-reducing method from a friend in Australia."

Spieser Is Favored
Spieser, the top-ranking challenger, a Michigan State University graduate, will meet Anthony in Detroit's 15 nationally televised 12-round match. Spieser, a rugged slugger who moves in just one direction—forward—is favored to defeat the rangy Anthony.

There hasn't been a title fight in Detroit since March 1951, when Dazzard Charles successfully defended his heavyweight crown against Jersey Joe Walcott. Promoter Nick London said a $150,000 gate is possible at Olympia, which can seat more than 14,000 for boxing. Prices of seats will range from $3 to $20.

Today was the "new deadline" for Moore to agree to a title defense. The National Boxing Assn. set a deadline for last Monday, but agreed to a week's delay before stripping Moore of his championship.

Moore said a victory over the Spieser-Anthony winner might prompt him to go for a third crack at the heavyweight title.

"You get three strikes, don't you?" Archie asked, "I swung and missed twice, so I got one left." The champion also announced, possibly not for the first time, that his life story is being written, that his story may be made into a movie, and that he's planning to act on the legitimate stage.

Milwaukee Signs Scout For Hawaii

MILWAUKEE, March 25 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves today named a retired U. S. Navy man as a full-time scout in the Hawaiian Islands.

He is 59-year-old Jack Kearns, a native of Springfield, Ohio.

Kearns, now a resident of Honolulu, retired from the Navy four years ago.

Braves' scouts Ed Dancisak and Bill Marshall, who conducted the majors' first baseball clinic in the islands recently recommended Kearns to the club.

Basketball Playing Code Is Changed

Free Throw Rule Revision Is Made

KANSAS CITY, March 25 (AP)—The National Basketball Committee today made a half dozen changes in the playing code for the free throw, including a revision of the free throw rule.

The one-and-one, or bonus free throw, proviso was revamped for college and AAU games to make the first six common fouls in each half one-shot violations. Fouls after that would revert to the present bonus rule—awarding a free throw in the event that first was made.

High school, YMCA and Canadian basketball games will allow the one-shot foul on the first four common violations for each half. They also revert to the present bonus rule after that.

Throw Eliminated
The committee, rules-making body for U.S. and Canadian basketball, also revised the penalty for a double foul. On such fouls next season the free throw will be eliminated and the ball returned to the center of the court for a jump. Each team would be allowed to choose their jumpers.

The throw-in rule from the end zones also was changed to permit teams to put the ball in play from any position at either end of the court. The old rule prohibited a throw-in from a 12-foot area under each basket.

The National Assn. of Basketball Coaches had recommended the change be applied to only the defensive end of the court.

Another change is aimed at goal tending, but it will not prevent the tall boys from dunking the ball. Players other than the shooter will not be permitted to touch the ball on the rim or directly above the basket.

Barcel Games Taboo
The committee also acted to strengthen its five-second rule, and cut down "on actionless or farcial games." Game officials, under this rule, are instructed to call time out and warn the team or teams responsible for unnecessary stalling.

If the team or teams do not respond to the warning, a technical foul can be called.

Barbara McIntire Wins North, South Golf Championship

PINEHURST, N. C., March 25 (AP)—Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, leading from the third hole, won the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament today with a 3 and 2 victory over Mrs. Ann Casey Johnstone of Mason City, Iowa.

Shaken by her opponent's eagle three on the 14th hole, where Mrs. Johnstone holed out a 110-yard eight iron shot from the rough, Barbara took a bogie four on the 15th and her once comfortable lead was suddenly cut to two with three to play.

But Barbara regained her composure before the lowa housewife could prolong the rally. The 22-year-old Ohio girl delivered two fine wood shots on the 16th, chipped up seven feet to close out the match as Mrs. Johnstone could do no better than a par.

Rain fell through the first 12 holes of the match over the 6,000 yard Pinehurst Country Club No. 2 course which already had been drenched by a night-long downpour. Miss McIntire, last year's National Open runnerup, drew four over par for the distance. Mrs. Johnstone was six over par.

Federal Hill Trumps Up New World Record

Cops Non-Betting Event In Florida

HALLANDALE, Fla., March 25 (INS)—Clifford Lusky's Federal Hill galloped to a new world record for six and one-half furlongs today, moving the distance in 1:15 flat and stepping into prominence for next Saturday's $100,000 added Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park.

The brown son of Cosmic Bomb carried 122 pounds, including jockey William Carstens, in today's race, dubbed the "Final Exam," a special non-betting event for Florida Derby hopefuls.

Federal Hill led Mrs. Ada Rice's Indian Creek, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, and T. A. Grisom's Shan Pac, jockey John Adams up, by three lengths at the wire. Charlie's Song, owned by C. F. Henry, ran last in the four horse field.

Following the race, Carstens declared: "The horse that beats Federal Hill will win the Florida Derby. He is completely ready for the race."

Federal Hill, who disappointed in the recent Flamingo at Hialeah, was then shipped to New Orleans where he won the Louisiana Derby.

He was timed today in 22 1/2 for the quarter, 44 2/5 for the half mile and 1:08 4/5 for three quarters of a mile.

The former world's record for six and one half furlongs was 1:15 1/5, set last year at Paradise Downs in Arizona.

His victory today makes Federal Hill a strong threat in Saturday's rich derby. He will be pitted against such stalwarts as Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler and Calumet Farm's Gen. Duke, both stakes winners this year.

Cubs Get Six Runs In First, Top Tribe

TUCSON, Ariz., March 25 (AP)—Six runs in the first inning carried the Chicago Cubs to an 11-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians before 1,425 fans today. The teams now have identical exhibition records of 7-8.

Ernie Banks and Jim Bolger hit two home runs apiece for the Cubs and Chico Carrasquel hit one for the Indians.

Banks and Bolger each connected in the first inning as the Cubs hammered John Gray from the mound. Gray pitched to five men and retired no one.

Bob Rush, ace of the Chicago staff, held the Indians to one run on two hits until the sixth inning, when he weakened and allowed four runs on four hits.

Brooklyn Team's Trip To Japan Found Possible Gem In Fred Kipp

By WALTER L. JOHNS

Central Press Sports Editor
VERO BEACH, Fla., — If the Brooklyn Dodgers' season started today Fred Kipp, a rookie southpaw from the little town of Piqua, Kan., probably would be a starting pitcher.

Kipp, who comes up after winning 20 games for Montreal, would get a starting assignment because he was the "best pitcher on the Dodger roster" during that barnstorming trip to Japan after the World Series last autumn.

A knuckle-baller, Kipp dazzled the Japanese batters by allowing only 1.26 earned runs in the 43 innings he hurled in the Far East. Manager Walter Alston took the young southpaw along to see what he could do and he did it.

The Dodgers have a fine pitching staff, however, and it won't be easy for Kipp to break in. However, he has the promise and you'll be hearing plenty about this portender from a town which has a population of only 150.

Fred Kipp is the son of a farmer. He himself worked on the farm as a boy. He has one brother, who now coaches a high school basketball team in Kansas City. Neither his brother nor his father showed any baseball ability.

Kipp did, though, although it's slightly amazing because his high school, Iola, Kan., didn't have a baseball team and Fred's activities were centered on basketball where he made the all-conference team and earned a scholarship to Kansas State college.

The semi-pro field attracted Kipp and it was here that he did his first pitching. When it came time to go to college, Kipp had an offer from the New York Giants but he turned it down. He was only 17 at the time.

He entered Kansas State but didn't like it there so he enrolled at Emporia State Teachers college. Here he started three years in baseball and four years in basketball.

The basketball coach at Washburn college, Marion MacDonald, who was scouting for Brooklyn, suggested that Kipp go to the Dodgers camp here at Vero Beach in 1953. He did and he impressed enough for the Dodgers to sign him.

They sent him to Miami but he played little. Transferred to Asheville, he pitched brilliantly, winning 15 games. He was drafted by the Army and spent the next year and a half at Camp Rucker, Ala., where he had a pitching record of 28-3.

Out of the service he helped Mobile win the Southern association playoff and then moved up to Montreal last year. His record at Montreal was 20-7, one of two pitchers in that league to hit the 20-game mark.

Kipp is 25, single, and has few interests outside baseball. He is an avid reader but he doesn't read fiction. He looks so much like the Dodgers' Roger Craig that some of the players call him "Craig" instead of Kipp.

EVANSTON, Ill., March 25 (AP)—Waldo Fisher, coach of Northwestern University's basketball team, which finished the season in the Big Ten cellar, resigned today to accept appointment as assistant athletic director.

Northwestern had an overall 1956-57 season record of 6 wins and 16 defeats and a conference record of 2 victories and 12 losses. Their conference performance a year ago was even poorer with only 1 victory.

Lord Chumley Bowie Winner

Strong Point 2nd,
Tender Morsel 3rd

BOWIE, Md., March 25 (AP)—Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Lord Chumley, a Preakness-Belmont Stakes nominee, galloped to an easy three-length victory at Bowie Race Course today in the $4,500 Maryland Day Purse, sixth race on the program.

Favorite with the crowd of 10,500 fans at $6 for $2, Lord Chumley, under Dick Lawless, went out to contest the lead from the start. He raced second to Strong Point up the backstretch with Federal Judge a close third. Federal Judge gave up the battle on the last turn, just as Lord Chumley moved up to challenge Strong Point.

Although whacked by Lawless in the early stretch, Lord Chumley was going quite easily at the finish and obviously had a good bit left. He was timed over the mile and sixteenth route in 1:46 2/5.

The bidding:
 South West North East
 1 heart Pass 2 clubs Pass
 2 hearts Pass 4 hearts Pass

Opening lead: Seven of clubs.
 In the recent Italo-American match for the world's championship, both sides incurred a loss which might well have been avoided.

The bidding shown in the diagram was employed by the visitors. In their methods, the bidding sequence is more or less mandatory and a game contract in hearts becomes inescapable, for North has no means of temporizing and must hurry the game. Unfortunately, the lead of the declarer's aspirations and the heart contract goes down to a 50 point set. When the home team held the North-South hand, the treatment was somewhat different. After the rebid of two hearts, North chose to make a further temporizing bid of two spades, which must be considered superior tactics, for at this point, North is not in a position to determine what is the best contract.

It is true that he has sufficient values to contract for game in hearts as the Italians did in the other room, but it may be that a no trump contract would be superior. Then there is the further consideration that if South has a very special hand including five solid hearts and a high diamond, the hand may produce a slam.

South properly called two no trump and North decided to offer his partner a choice of contracts by bidding three hearts. South actually proceeded to four hearts, a highly doubtful choice.

A return to three spades has nothing to lose, and tends to suggest that the heart suit is not in tip-top shape. With this warning, North is in strategic position to return to three no trump, a highly superior contract.

When the hand was played by the American team, a clear cut singleton lead by West settled the issue from the start. When West was in with the king of hearts, he shifted to the ten of spades. But when West took his second heart trick, he still had time to put partner in with the ace of diamonds. In the meantime, East had signaled off spades by discarding the three.

Market Declines Slightly; Trading Remains Slow

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Industrial issues paced a moderate stock market decline today in an other day of slow trading.

Key stocks were off from fractions to around a point or more.
 It was an unsensational fall-off, more or less in line with the kind of minor fluctuations the market has been going through for the past five weeks in its sideways movement.

The steels, nonferrous metals,
 chemicals and other industrials took the major share of the losses. Leading rails were off more modestly on balance and showed some smallish gains. The utilities edged off.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 60 cents to $173.30 with the industrials down
 $1.10, the rails down 50 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Of 1,137 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 571 to 306. There were 32 new 1957
 highs and 34 new lows.

Among these new members are Mrs. Elizabeth H. Crawford, Dr.
 and Mrs. Harry Teter, Estel
 Kelley, Miss Margaret Jones,
 Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cook,
 B. U. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwab, Miss Alice Stakem,

Identical Bids
Are Submitted

It finally has happened. Two firms submitted identical bids on a proposed city purchase.

The Mayor and Council opened two bids yesterday on pipe for the Sewer Department. On each of the four different-sized pipe, the Cumberland Cement and Supply
 Company and Super Concrete
 Company submitted identical bids.

This prompted Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz to comment: "Well, I guess I'll have to roll the dice."

The bids were referred to the commissioner and City Attorney
 Thomas B. Finan.

Johnson Heights PTA asked that three or four policemen or Auxiliary Police be stationed at Oldtown Road, Louisiana Road and Hill Top Drive intersections to protect children from the increased traffic going to and from the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant.

Police Commissioner William
 V. Keegan said the department has recently added a policewoman and as soon as her uniform arrives, there will be an uniform policewoman at Louisiana Avenue.

Report Ike Planning
Long Rest Is Denied

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—
 The White House today described as "completely wrong" a story published in Germany that President Eisenhower is going to take a long rest and leave Vice President Nixon in charge of the government.

Presidential press secretary
 James C. Hagerty so described the story, which a reporter said was being carried in the West
 German Evening Kurier.

The reporter said the story was attributed to British travelers returning from Bermuda who were said to have gotten the impression
 the President plans a long rest.

Canal Hikers Will Hold May Reunion

The group of men who made a hike down the old C&O Canal from Cumberland to Washington in March, 1954, will hold their third reunion May 3-4, according to Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court, who headed the 1954 march.

The hikers this year will camp out along the canal on the night of May 3 and hike on the following day. The group and a number of invited guests will hold a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Saturday,
 May 4, at the Hilltop Hotel, Harpers Ferry.

The group headed by Justice
 Douglas helped focus attention on the potentialities of the old canal route for recreational areas, thereby helping defeat a plan for the construction of a multi-million dollar scenic highway along the course of the canal. The government has since adopted a compromise plan for the development of the route into a recreational area.

Fletcher Resigns As Rec Director

Mayor, Council Plan Meeting To Air Consolidation Proposal

N. Gwynn Fletcher submitted his resignation as recreation director yesterday afternoon as the Mayor and Council and the Recreation Board ended a meeting called to discuss proposals submitted by the board.

City officials told the Board they will meet soon to discuss the proposals which include the consolidation of the Recreation and Park departments.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said he was heartily in favor of the consolidation and that the board is entitled to an answer.

Following the joint session, the Board met and accepted Mr. Fletcher's resignation, according to James L. Weber, chairman.

He said the members accepted the resignation with regret and because of the difficult conditions under which Mr. Fletcher has been working, but expressed reluctance to see him go.

Commends Staff

In submitting his resignation effective April 22, Mr. Fletcher encouraged the Board to continue its promotion of public recreation and commended the present employees of the department.

He has held the post since October 1, 1956, when he succeeded Robert E. Pence, who accepted a recreation post with the Board of Education.

All members of the Council but Commissioner John J. Long, and the Rec Board, except Lacy Cifala, who was out of town, attended the meeting asked by the Board to "bring to a head" proposals to consolidate the recreation and park departments and provide a wage increase for Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant to the recreation director.

Mr. Weber said the consolidation program, proposed several months ago, involves basic changes in department policy and asked that both sides be from a

There must be objections, he called for the Council's official attitude, since it might be necessary to revise the plan or start all over again.

Consolidation, he said he believed, will save the city money. Commissioner William V. Keegan asked how the savings would be made.

Mr. Weber explained that under the present system, seasonal workers must be hired during the summer to work on playgrounds. Under consolidation, much of the maintenance work could be done by park workers during the winter.

Mr. Keegan wanted to know why the park crew couldn't do the playground work anyway.

In the past the work done by other departments has been billed to the Recreation Department, Weber said.

The park maintenance crews, according to William H. Buchholz, commissioner of streets and public property, are kept busy on maintenance work in winter.

He also pointed out that the current Constitution Park budget ($37,500) contains non-recurring items for road repairs which will drop it to about $25,000 in the next budget.

The city will have to scrape to meet the budget, he added, since it faces from $40,000 to $50,000 added cost to maintain flood control structures.

He said some work done for recreation was billed, at the request of City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, but that hundreds of dollars of work was not.

Mr. Buchholz insisted the city must know the salary scales under the consolidation plan and asked if Mr. Fletcher's salary, now $6,000, was the minimum. "At the minute, yes," Mr. Weber replied.

Asking who the administrative assistant would be, Mr. Buchholz was told by Fletcher that Mrs. Helen Leo would take the post.

Buchholz said this would mean

CAPT. H. C. DUFF

National Unit Will Inspect Naval Reserves

Visit Scheduled For Tomorrow

Naval Reserve Surface Division 5-9, McKaig's Hill, will undergo an inspection tomorrow by the National Inspection Board under the direction of Capt. Howard C. Duff, former industrial engineer and long-time Naval Reservist.

The inspection party, according to Lt. Cmdr. Gordon H. McCrea, commanding officer of the Naval Training Center here, is from Omaha, Neb., where Reserve Headquarters are located.

Accompanying Captain Duff will be Cmdr. J. E. Kearney, USNR, Lt. Cmdr. L. L. Roger, USN, and several enlisted men. In addition, Capt. E. E. Lull, of the Fifth Naval District will be an observer.

Appointed from Sweetwater, Texas, to the United States Naval Academy in 1929, Captain Duff, a native of Monroe, La., was graduated and commissioned in 1933.

After serving aboard the battleship USS Oklahoma and the cruiser USS Houston from 1933 to 1935, he resigned from the Navy and accepted employment as an industrial engineer with a Texas firm.

He was associated with the Naval Reserve and in 1939 was recalled to active duty as a lieutenant, (j.g.) and served aboard the USS Ramsey (DM-16) as engineer officer. Following this duty the Captain had a long tour of wartime sea and shore duty which included command of the submarine chaser SC-515 and the PC-582.

In August of last year he assumed duties as senior member of the Naval Reserve National Inspection Board. The inspection tomorrow will mark the first inspection of the local unit by the National Board since the organization of the division in 1946.

Civil Service Bill Enacted With Changes

Minority Member To Be On Board

State Senator Charles M. See reported late last night that the Senate enacted the Allegany County civil service bill after it concurred in two House amendments.

The bill, which will place over 200 employees of the county under the merit system, will go to Governor McKeldin after it is printed, he said.

Sen. See said two amendments, which were agreed to by all concerned, were added to the bill in the House prior to its approval. He listed the changes as:

1. That the attorney to the Board of Election Supervisors will not come under the merit system.

2. That one member of the three-member Civil Service Board shall be a member of the political party polling the second highest number of votes in the last general election.

The Senator said the second amendment at present would provide for representation by the minority political party.

The amendments, it was reported, represent concessions made by the Allegany County Delegation and Senator See following protests by the Democratic Central Committee—that the bill did not provide for minority representation.

'Green Bag' Nominees Confirmed

Allegany County's "green bag" appointments were confirmed in the Senate last night, according to State Senator Charles M. See. He said the list was approved as sent down by Governor McKeldin. It is the same list which was chosen by the Allegany County Republican Committee.

Changes include Del. Estel C. Kelley for the six-year term on the Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners, to succeed Walter C. Capper; Fred H. Anderson, local attorney, to replace Morris Baron as magistrate for juvenile causes; David Williams, Midland, substitute trial magistrate.

Martin Luther Kolb, trial magistrate at Flintstone, and Dayton M. Lewis at Oldtown also are new appointees.

Remaining magistrates are J. Milton Dick and Donald W. Mason for the two Cumberland posts; Howard Stevens at Mt. Savage; James Carter and Frederick Crowe, both at Frostburg; James F. Blair at Midland; Melvin Sloan at Lonaconing; Forrest Mowbray at Barton; Carl Shaffer at Westernport; William Meagher at Cresaptown, and Thomas Nash, committing magistrate at McCoole.

Earl E. Manges and Victor M. Hebb were confirmed as members of the Board of Election Supervisors as was Matthew J. Mullaney, the Democratic member.

Amcelle Employees Contribute $75 In Dystrophy Drive

A contribution of $75 was made recently to the Allegany County Muscular Dystrophy Drive by the Amcelle Employees' Charity Fund. Mrs. Dorothy Shobe, one of the ten members of the fund, presented the $75 check to Alvin H. Rankin, a representative of the muscular dystrophy drive. George McLuckie, committee member, was also present at the presentation.

Fire Chief Virgil Parker, county chairman for Muscular Dystrophy, stated that the success of the drive was due to the efforts of the various volunteer fire companies, service clubs, Boy Scouts and the various industrial charity funds.

Truck Rolls Over In Mishap

A sand truck was unloaded the hard way yesterday morning when it rolled over after the shoring on Cresap Street broke loose, causing the vehicle to topple down about 20 feet into a field. The driver of the truck, Joseph J. Riley Jr., escaped without injury. The truck, which is owned by the Riley Trucking Company, was headed to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 at North Branch from the Ridgeley quarry when the accident occurred.

Gas Carrier Bill Unfair, C & A Says

Sen. Friend Denies Harassing Company

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (P)—A spokesman for the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Co. told a legislative committee today that a bill introduced by Sen. Friend (R-Garrett) is "wholly unnecessary, probably invalid wholly impractical and grossly unfair."

John W. Avirett, attorney for C. & A., made the charges before the House Agriculture and Natural Resources Committee which deferred action on the senator's proposal.

The bill, already through the Senate, would require that natural gas and oil pipelines be made common carriers.

Friend told the committee last week that C. & A. holds a "virtual state-protected monopoly" on gas delivery in Western Maryland and is "trying to extend its monopoly" to gas production in Accident field in Garrett County.

Don't Work Leases

He said small, independent drillers have purchased leases from farmers in Accident field but do not work them because C. & A. has not agreed to purchase gas from them or rent pipelines to them.

Avirett said his company has no "chartered monopoly" on gas production or transportation. He said the state protects it from competition in distribution to domestic consumers only as long as it meets its "obligation to the public" and abides by regulations of the Public Service Commission.

He said Friend's proposal is "unnecessary" because the gas company now buys gas from anybody in Garrett County who produces it in marketable quantity and of a "quality we're allowed to sell."

Avirett said C. & A. does not produce any gas in Accident field but buys it all from the Snee and Eberly drilling firm.

Friend said he believes, but cannot prove that Snee and Eberly is C. & A.'s "drilling arm" and that the two companies are "one and the same."

Doubts Validity

Avirett said that Snee and Eberly is not "in any way regulated, controlled or supervised" by C. & A.

Avirett said Friend's bill would be "invalid" because this field legislation is already "preempted" by the federal government through the Federal Power Commission. He also said such a law would violate the "due process" clause of the Constitution and that his company will fight it in court if it is enacted.

The law would be "impractical," Avirett said, because of

40,336 County Residents Now Registered For Vote

Allegany County had 40,336 registered voters as of March 1, according to figures compiled by the County Board of Election Supervisors.

Among the registered voters were 39,912 white persons and 424 Negroes. Politically there were 22,721 Republicans, 11,488 men and 11,233 women; 17,295 Democrats, 8,882 men and 8,413 women; 304 independents, 218 men and 86 women; 14 Socialists, nine men and five women, and two members of other parties, one man and one woman.

Since the poll books were re-opened 10 days after last November's election there have been 121 new registrants. Eighty of them were service personnel who had voted in November by absentee ballot and were automatically registered. The new registrants include 54 Republicans, 34 Democrats and 24 Independents who declined to list political preference.

The number of registered voters has decreased since the election because the names of 197 deceased persons have been removed as well as the names of 78 other voters at their own request so they could register elsewhere in Maryland.

The 197 removed because of death included 118 Republicans, 77 Democrats and two independents. Those removed by request included 45 Republicans, 32 Democrats and one independent.

Eight other registered voters, all men, changed their party affiliation since the November election. Four of them changed from Democrats to Republicans. Two other men, previously in the independent group, changed, one to a Democrat and the other to a Republican. Two men previously classified as Republicans changed to Democrats.

Although there will not be a county-wide election until next year, the Board of Election Supervisors' office in the Court House basement is open from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a. m. until noon Saturdays for registration of new voters.

Parent-Child Study Meet Set Today

Plans for a structured program of parent-child study will be discussed today during a meeting at the Board of Education building.

Dr. Fred Thompson, of the Child Study Institute of the University of Maryland and Miss Dorothy Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel, will meet with the pupil personnel staff of public schools of Allegany County.

Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public schools, said last night that in the near future it is contemplated to have trained leaders to work with parent groups throughout the county.

The leaders would help with a structured program of parent-child study as well as aiding in training more leaders in the county.

Meanwhile over 160 parents have registered for a general workshop which will be held tomorrow from 10 a. m. through 3 p. m. at West Side School.

Dr. Thompson will act as consultant at the Wednesday meeting which will also be attended by Miss Shires and Mr. Higgins.

Lunch will be served at the school for the workshop participants.

United Fund Agreement Is Approved

Procedure Set For Admissions

An agreement to be submitted to present member agencies of the Community Chest and all other health, welfare and youth service organizations in this area was approved last night at a meeting of the executive committee of the County United Fund, Inc.

Accompanying the agreement, which sets forth the policies and procedures under which agencies will apply for admission to the United Fund, will be a letter of invitation stating that the welfare of the community will best be served in a one-fund effort.

The executive committee president, Edmund S. Burke, president of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, said that Joseph Miller, chairman of the Admissions Committee and superintendent of the Western Division of the Western Maryland Railway, will begin meeting immediately with agencies to determine their qualifications for membership.

Mr. Burke also stated that Thomas W. Miller, professional fund-raiser, employed by the County United Fund, will visit the Tri-Towns next week to begin setting up an organization to resolve individual community problems and to effectively set up a united campaign effort.

The committee expressed the belief that a united fund campaign will result in a 25 per cent reduction in campaign expenses, the savings to be passed on to benefit the programs of charitable, health and youth service agencies now serving the citizens of Allegany County and vicinity.

Mr. Burke said correspondence he has received from many of the agencies now serving the needs of the community indicated their endorsement of the principle of fund raising through the United Fund appeal.

Attending last night's meeting in addition to Mr. Burke and Mr. Miller were Lewis J. Ort, Wayne Ritchie, A. Earl Johnson, W. D. Pealer, Duard Little, Robert Hainsfurther, Dr. W. Royce Hodges, William H. Lemmert and A. T. Brust Jr.

Sales Tax Boost For Teacher Pay Gets Backing

Hot Floor Fight Slated This Week

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, March 25 (P)—A one cent boost in the State sales tax was tentatively approved by the House Ways and Means Committee today as a means of financing a $400 pay increase for public school teachers.

Fifteen members sided for the sales tax against 11 for a combination of a State tobacco tax and other levies in a committee test after an income tax increase had been eliminated by a close margin.

Chairman Boone (D-Balto County), suggested members "sleep over it" and take up the matter for a final decision tomorrow.

The wide variety of opinion as the three tax proposals were discussed indicated a hot floor fight when the tax question comes up for action in the House later this week. Prospects remained strong that the Senate might reject the sales tax, even if the House approved it, and that Gov. McKeldin might veto any plan either comes up with.

Differ On Source

Members of the House group reached quick and full agreement on the recommendation of its subcommittee that the teacher salary increase be granted but how to pay for it was a different question.

On initial balloting, sales, income, and tobacco levies were all defeated. Then Chairman Boone told committee members they would have to pick one of the three in preference to the others.

This brought 13 votes for a sales tax increase, 7 for a combination of a statewide tobacco tax and one on soft drinks or some other small revenue raiser, and 6 for boosting income taxes one half per cent.

Boone then asked members to choose between sales and the tobacco tax combination and the close vote was for hiking the State's present 2 per cent retail sales tax.

Delegate Lee (D-Montgomery), chairman of the special subcommittee which studied the teacher salary problem, said the bill calling for an average of $400 per teacher would cost $11,556,270 to put into effect. This is half the amount teachers had requested.

Although his subcommittee made no specific tax recommendation, he said the sales tax increase would be the only levy to finance it entirely and could be held off until late in the year since a one-cent raise would bring in an extra 21 million dollars a year.

He said this would give the State 10 million dollars already on the tax books to help absorb "the financial shock which seems inevitable for the fiscal year 1959."

He referred to reports by fiscal experts that the State faces at least 14½ million dollars in increased spending next year through mandatory budget items geared to special formulae.

$1 Million Short

Lee said a ½ per cent boost in the income tax would raise $13,440,000, still leaving the Legislature about a million dollars short of paying for the increase.

He questioned whether the tobacco tax could produce enough unless it was "taken away" from Baltimore City and those counties now using it as a revenue source.

In the final balloting, the following voted for the sales tax hike, a number of them reluctantly: Barnes (R-Carroll), Bloom (D-Washington), Brown (D-Howard), Derr (R-Frederick), Harris (R-Frederick), Hatem (D-Harford), Lee (D-Montgomery), Mandel (D-Balto 5th), Raley (D-St. Marys), Risley (D-Queen Anne's), Robinson (D-Balto 4th), Smelser (D-Frederick), Staten (D-Balto County), Urban (D-Balto 2nd) and Whitmore (D-Anne Arundel).

Voting for a State tobacco tax in combination with some other levy were: Dels. Buffington (D-Balto 3rd), Edwards (R-Garrett), Gude (R-Montgomery), Hanna (D-Wicomico), Hughes (R-Allegany), Larmore (R-Wicomico), Low (D-Talbot), Meyers (D-Balto 6th), McNeal (D-Balto 3rd), Nowakow-

Second National Branch Bank

What appears to be a cozy ranch-style home in the country is Second National's branch bank in Cresaptown, which is nearing completion. Joseph M. Naughton, bank president, said last night that officials are shooting for an opening target date in the middle of May although there is still work to be done before it is completed. Bank equipment has yet to be delivered to the building site located along U. S. Route 220 on the east end of Cresaptown adjoining property of the Amcelle plant. The new facility will provide complete banking services of the most modern type and is being constructed at a cost of about $40,000.

Cities And Towns, Like Humans Are Emotionally Sick, AAGP Group States

Dr. E. I. Baumgartner Is Member Of Study Committee

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS, March 25 (P)—Cities and towns can get emotionally sick, just like humans, a physician said today.

And the town's sickness can adversely affect the mental health of its people.

Some towns are schizoid—clinging to the past yet wanting new and better things, said Dr. Andrew S. Tomb, Victoria, Texas. They won't vote school bonds yet don't like doubled-up school sessions, for example.

Others are psychopathic with no regrets over their past and no worries about their future. Some are in the depressive phase of social and economic decadence. Others are manic boom towns growing too fast, without enough schools, streets and health facilities.

"Sick communities are partly where we get troublesome things from in human behavior," Dr. Tomb declared in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Academy of General Practice, the organization of family doctors.

He said towns can and must recognize and correct their emotional sickness.

Family doctors, who know and treat the people, should be first to recognize what is wrong—in school systems, lack of recreational facilities, in bad influences on families and children.

"Even a new bowling alley can be a good and healthy thing," he said. "Husbands and wives tired, irritated and gripped after the day's work can take out their hostilities on bowling pins rather than on each other and their children."

Dr. Tomb is chairman of an AAGP committee working with the American Psychiatric Assn. committee to intensify treatment and prevention of mental illnesses, the nation's most widespread disease.

The joint committee agrees family doctors can and must do far more in treating mental and emotional sickness.

The family doctor is usually the first to see the emotionally disturbed patient. Through his knowledge of the family and the community, he could often nip incipient illness early, or help solve emotional problems, said Drs. Lawrence E. Drewery, Camden, Ark., and Dr. E. Irving Baumgartner, Oakland, Md., who are members of the AAGP committee.

"With proper training, the family doctor could treat far more than half of the emotionally disturbed," Dr. Drewery said.

He declared mental illness "is the next great field for the advance of medicine. It is the only remaining vast area not yet charted."
